

Saint Laurent,
Fall 2019

Betty Catroux

Catherine
Deneuve

Bianca
Jagger

FASHION

THE THREE GRACES

YOU'D BE FORGIVEN for doing a double take at the Saint Laurent fall show where creative director Anthony Vaccarello looked to a holy trinity of Yves Saint Laurent's own muses—Betty Catroux, Catherine Deneuve, and Bianca Jagger—for an '80s-riffic collection filled with big shoulders and legs for days.

EXHIBITION GOOD VIBRATIONS

One shore you shouldn't miss this summer: Sun & Sea (Marina), at the Venice Biennale's Lithuanian Pavilion. The multidisciplinary opera, which features performers singing about pressing ecological issues as they sunbathe on an indoor beach, was awarded the fair's top prize, the Golden Lion. Through November 24.

Rugile Barzdžiukaitė, Vaiva Grainyte, and
Lina Lapelytė's
Sun & Sea (Marina)

Michael Kors
Collection,
Fall 2019

FASHION

TEEN SPIRIT

From groovy sequined gowns to far-out floral jacquard, Michael Kors's fall collection was a blast from the past. The MKC Monogram bags feature a logo inspired by fashion sketches Kors made back in high school when he was dreaming about what his brand might look like one day.

Jean-Honoré
Fragonard's
The Swing,
circa 1767

Manolo
Blahnik's
Antoinetta
shoe

EXHIBITION

HISTORY LESSON

"An Enquiring Mind," an exhibition co-curated by Manolo Blahnik at London's Wallace Collection, juxtaposes the designer's fantastical footwear—like the candy-colored shoes he created for Sofia Coppola's film Marie Antoinette—with paintings, sculpture, and furniture from the museum's collections. Through September 1.

RUNWAY: DAN & CORINA LECCA. MICHAEL KORS: COURTESY MICHAEL KORS. ALL OTHERS: CLOCKWISE FROM MIDDLE LEFT: FAIRCHILD ARCHIVE/SHUTTERSTOCK; ROBERT SIEGLER/INA VIA GETTY IMAGES; SYNDICATION INTERNATIONAL/GETTY IMAGES; JEAN-HONORE FRAGONARD, THE SWING, CIRCA 1767. © THE WALLACE COLLECTION; © MANOLO BLAHNIK; GABRIELE SEGZDE

Carlo Donati
Studio + Marco
Petrus room
divider, $6,900.
carlodonati.it/
stripe-shade.

Adam Nathaniel Furman
the Royal Family
chair and cupboard.
campdesigngallery.com.

Nicole Fuller x Dempsey
& Carroll stationery,
$60 for a set of 10.
dempseyandcarroll.com.

Patricia Urquiola for Glas Italia
L.A. Sunset
Extension tables.
imoderni
.com.

Chris Wolston
Valledupar credenza. The Future Perfect,
NYC; 212-473-2500.

DESIGN

RAINBOW BRIGHT

IF THE LATEST design collections are any indication, innocuous beige and anemic white are making room for vivid kaleidoscopic colors. For years, neutrals have dominated interiors, often epitomized as the height of subdued sophistication. Now designers are once again embracing maximalist, optimistic color and leading the charge on how to decorate fearlessly, with a full spectrum of rainbow hues headlining installations, furniture, and textiles alike. The ones to watch are also experimenting with iridescent neons and mirror finishes, promising a bright future ahead. Mieke ten Have

Mother jacket, $545.
motherdenim
.com.

BOOK SPIRIT GUIDE

Let's get metaphysical: This summer, L.A. denim label Mother presents a collection packed with cosmic symbolism (plus plenty of tie-dye). It's perfect to pair with Taschen's forthcoming update on its Dali Tarot, which comes with a deck of mystical cards designed by the Surrealist artist in the 1980s.

BOOK SECOND ACT

Téa Obreht, the acclaimed author of The Tiger's Wife, returns with her sophomore novel, Inland (Random House). Set in the Arizona Territory of 1893, it chronicles the lives of a frontierswoman and a former outlaw as they collide. It will enchant lovers of lyrical prose and the mythical American West.

Nell Williams, Vivek Kalra, and Aaron Phagura in Blinded by the Light

MOVIE LIKE THE BOSS

A hit at the Sundance Film Festival, Blinded by the Light is the tale of a British-Pakistani teen growing up in Thatcher-era England whose life is forever changed by the transcendent songs of Bruce Springsteen. This uplifting story, loaded with Springsteen's timeless tracks, is sure to be a crowd-pleaser when it opens August 14. ■